Letters Nos. 2254, 1906 and 2256, dated the 17th October 1906, from the Secretary, Indian Railway Conference Association.

EXPLANATION.—The agreement of an accident brought to notice an apparent inconsistency between rule 45, sub-rule (4), Chap. II, and rule 120 and (2), sub-rule (2), Chap. V, of Part I of the General Rules for working open lines of railway promulgated with Railway Board's circular No. R.T. ¹⁰ dated the 26th September 1908, and a revision of rule 118 and 121, sub-rule (2), was, therefore, considered necessary.

2. Rule 15, sub-rule (4) of the General Rules mentioned is amended on a Railway Administration to fix a starting signal, when no advanced starting signal is provided, outside all connections on the line to which it refers. It was represented that under certain circumstances it was desirable to permit of the starter, when an advanced starter was provided, being fixed inside connections, and as alteration of the rule was accordingly suggested.

3. It was further represented that the significance of rule 121 of the General Rules was necessary with a view to dispatching same when signals inoperatively out of use, from newly erected semaphore signals intended to be brought into use later.

4. The suggested amendments of the General Rules mentioned were accordingly referred to the Indian Railway Conference Association for consideration. The recommendations of the Association have now been received and considered by the Railway Board and have been approved by them.

5. It is, therefore, hereby, of the orders contained by the notification of the Government of India in the Department of Commerce and Industry, No. 501, dated the 21st March 1908, and in the present notification, under section 47, sub-sections (1) and (4), of the Indian Railways Act, 1905 (IX of 1905), as in force in British India are respectively applied, the adoption, by the administration of all lines of railway administered by the Government, of the amendments specified in the proposed amendments to the General Rules for working open lines of railway, which were promulgated with Railway Board's circular No. R.T. ²¹⁸ dated the 26th September 1908.

3. The Highway Board also decide that the next seven months may be brought to the notice of the administrations of the several railways and administered by the Government and which are under the control of the Government, and that the Agents and Managers of these railways may be invited to submit formal applications for the adoption of the said amendments. They also decide that the Agents and Managers of other lines will submit similar applications.

MADRAS, TUESDAY EVENING, DECEMBER 1, 1908.

REVENUE DEPARTMENT

Fort St. George, December 10, 1908.

The following is published for general information:—

INDIAN FOREST SERVICE.

REGISTRATION AS TO THE APPOINTMENT OF PROBATIONERS, 1908.

1. Appointments.—The Secretary of State for India by General Order, in the summer of 1908, made out the Indian appointments of Probationers for the Indian Forest Service, provided that no such candidates are examined to be in all respects qualified.

In making these appointments, he will act with the advice of a Selection Committee.

2. Applications for appointment.—Applications for appointment must be made on a printed form to be obtained from the Secretary, Forest and Fauna Department, India Office, Whitehall, London, S.W., and to be returned to him not later than Thursday the 24 July 1909. Candidates must be prepared to present the evidence for an interview with the Selection Committee within three weeks from 1st July 1909.

3. Age limit.—Candidates must be under the age of 35 years on the 1st July 1909.

4. Nationality, &c.—Every candidate must be a native-born British subject. He must be unmarried, and if he can he must be under 18 years of age. He must be of good physique, and must produce satisfactory evidence of character.

5. Qualifications.—Candidates must bring evidence, for the consideration of the Selection Committee, to show that they have passed with honours in a public examination for a degree in some branch of Natural Science, held by a University in Great Britain or Ireland, and that they possess a knowledge of Mathematics up to and including Vectors Trigonometry. Special consideration will be given to candidates who pass in a Diploma in Forestry granted by a British University.

6. To show the number of duly qualified candidates who have taken such a degree or diploma, is not sufficient to fill the number of appointments. The Secretary of State for India in Council will examine candidates who bring evidence to show that they have received a good general education, and that they have a good knowledge of Chemistry and Mathematics and Physics as inferred in the approved syllabus (Appendix I). A good general education should be indicated in English, at the least, a fair knowledge of English Composition, Mathematics up to and including Vectors Trigonometry, Latin, and either German or French. A knowledge of Greek is not necessary, but is useful in the opinion of the authorities. The production of such evidence, guided by the existing authorities of the Universities, or of evidence that a candidate has passed the Matriculation Examination of a University, or of evidence that, or of other certificates held by the Secretary of State in Council to be equivalent, will be taken to show that a candidate satisfies the requirements of the above. Candidates of this class must not be less than 15 years of age on the 1st July 1909.

Should there be more candidates considered by the Selection Committee to be qualified in every respect than vacancies to be filled, the Secretary of State reserves the right to require those to pass a competitive examination conducted by the Civil Service Commissioners, on the results of which their final selection would depend.

7. Proof of Examination.—Those candidates who are selected as Probationers will be required to undergo a strict examination by a Medical Board at the India Office, at which particular stress will be laid on good vision and hearing.

On passing this medical examination candidates will be deemed to be Probationers for the Indian Forest Service.

L.S.S.3

4. Period of Probation.—In the case of Probationers who have passed with Honours in Natural Science, as indicated in paragraph 3, the period of probation will extend over two years. In the case of students who have obtained a Diploma in Forestry the period may be two years or less, as may be specially arranged. The Probationers will be required to undergo a special course of study at Coimbatore, and to become members of the University, if not so already. During the vacations they will receive, under suitable supervision, practical instruction in such British and Continental forests as may be selected for the purpose. Examinations are also made for purposes of study in forests.

In the case of Probationers who have not passed with Honours in Natural Science, the period of probation will extend over about three years.

Probationers must obtain the Diploma of Forester of the University of Oxford; those who have passed with Honours in Natural Science within two years, and the others within three years. The case of students who have already obtained at another University such a Diploma will be specially considered.

5. Expenses.—The Probationers will be required to defray all expenses of lodging, board, tuition, and examination, while at Coimbatore, and on practical instruction in British and on one Continent, with the exception of fees payable to local forest officers in Indian and on the Continent.

6. Allowances.—The Secretary of State for India in Council will pay to each Probationer attending a degree in Natural Science, on a Diploma in Forestry, the sum of £150, annually, or a total of £450, (in addition to the fee to local officers mentioned above). These payments will be made on the following dates in each year:—

	£
On the 1st December	25
On the 1st March	20
On the 1st June	10

In the case of Probationers who have not passed with Honours in Natural Science, an allowance of £150 (in each instalment as may be required) to meet the expenses of the practical work, and will defray (as above) the fees payable to local forest officers.

The grant of the allowances is subject to the following conditions:—

(a) that the progress of the Probationers in his studies is satisfactory;

(b) that the Probationer gives security to release the payments in case he fails to join the Indian Forest Service at the end of the period of probation.

12. Conduct.—Every Probationer will be required to conduct himself during the period of probation in a manner satisfactory to the Secretary of State, and to give evidence of satisfactory progress in his studies in such a manner as may be required, failing which, or in the event of serious misconduct, he will be liable to have his name removed from the list of Probationers.

13. Appointments and Dismissal.—Probationers who obtain the Diploma of Forester, and are of sound constitution and free from physical defects which would render them unsuitable for employment in the Indian Forest Service, will be appointed Assistant Conservators in the Indian Forest Department. Their positions in the Forestry Forest Service will be determined by the results of the examinations held during their probation; but in making selection for the post of Conservator, officers of the same year are ranked as equal in seniority.

They will be allowed at the end of the period of probation to state their preference as regards the Forestry to which they desire to be attached, but the distribution will be made in the several Forestry according to the needs of the public service, at the discretion of the Secretary of State for India. Officers are, however, at all times liable to be transferred from one Forestry to another at the pleasure of the Government of India.

14. Resign.—Every Probationer, before proceeding to India, will be required to satisfy the Secretary of State, in such manner as may be determined, of his ability to ride.

15. Article of Agreement.—Within a month of his nomination as Assistant Conservator, each candidate must sign articles of agreement describing the terms and conditions of his appointment; he must declare for India when required to do so by the Secretary of State, and must engage for one year. Failure to embark on the stated time will, in the absence of satisfactory explanation, lead to forfeiture of appointment.

16. Salary.—Every Assistant Conservator of Forests will draw pay at the rate of Rs. 255 a month (equivalent to 405 £ a year, when the rupee is at 15½) from the date of his reporting his arrival in India.

17. Uniform, Arms, Pensions, and Privileged Rank.—Uniform, arms, and pensions will be governed by the regulations laid down by the Government of India, and applicable to Forest Officers, such regulations being subject to any modifications or alterations which may be made at their own request by the Government of India, or their representatives in case of any doubt arising being left to that Government. A copy of the existing regulations can be seen on application at the India Office.

Certain information regarding appointments in the agency controlling staff of the Indian Forest Service, the pay of which has been recently improved, will be found in Appendix III; a summary of information regarding leave is contained in Appendix III; and regarding Pensions and the Privileged Rank in Appendix IV.

APPENDIX III (see paragraph 10 of the Regulations).

LEAVE.

1. The following is a summary of the principal regulations relating to the leave admissible to officers appointed to the Judicial Practice Service by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom.

Long Leave.

2. Leave is admissible to an aggregate amount of six years during the service. The amount "earned" is one-fourth of an officer's entire service, and the amount "due" is that amount less any supply.

3. Leave, without medical certificate, can, if due, be generally taken after eight years' entire service, and again after three years' continuous service. It is limited to two years at a time.

4. Leave on medical certificate may be granted (a) to an officer who has rendered three years' continuous service, for not more than two years, but capable of extension up to three years; and (b) to an officer who has not rendered three years' continuous service, up to one year in any year, and up to such longer period, if any (but not exceeding two years in all), as the officer may have "earned" or "due" to him.

5. The allowances admissible during furlough are—

- (1) During the last two years of furlough without medical certificate and during an month of furlough with medical certificate as may be "due" half average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.
- (2) After the expiration of the period for which the foregoing allowances are admissible—one quarter of average salary, subject to certain maximum and minimum limits.

Short Leave

6. Privilege leave is a holiday which may be granted in the extent of one-fourth part of the time that an officer has been on duty without interruption; and it may be accumulated up to three months, raised by 21 months' service. During privilege leave, the officer receives a day on his appointments, and receives the salary which he would have received if on duty. An interval of not less than six months must elapse between two periods of absence on privilege leave.

Privilege leave may be granted in furlough, special leave, or extraordinary leave without allowances. The whole period of leave thus taken in combination in leave or combined leave. Combined leave may not be granted for a period of less duration than six months, and, except on medical certificate, may not be extended beyond two years.

7. Special leave may be granted at any time for not more than six months, with intervals of six years' service; afterwards, calculated as during furlough, and given during the last six months only, furlough being admissible. This leave is included in the aggregate of six years' service.

8. Extraordinary leave without allowances may be granted in case of necessity, and, except in special specified cases, only when no other kind of leave is by rule admissible. It may be granted in substitution of other leave.

9. Furlough leave includes for a maximum of 18 days, usually with half average salary, is granted to an officer proceeding on or returning from leave out of India, or on retirement, to enable him to reach the port of embarkation or to return his appointments. It is admissible only at the end and not at the beginning of combined leave.

10. Short leave is also granted in certain cases to appear at marriages, etc.

General Rules.

11. Leave of absence, whether on furlough or on privilege leave, can never be claimed as of right, and is given or refused at the discretion of Government.

12. After five years' continuous absence from duty, an officer is considered to be out of the employment of Government.

13. When leave allowance other than privilege leave pay are paid at the Home Treasury, or in a Colony where the standard of currency is gold, rupees are converted into sterling at the rate of exchange fixed for the time being for the adjustment of financial transactions between the Imperial and Indian Treasuries, unless any other rate has been exceptionally authorized. But for the present the rate of conversion is subject to a maximum of 1s. 6d. in the pound. Privilege leave pay when issued from the Home Treasury (this is only admissible when privilege leave is combined with other leave) is converted at 2s. 6d. to the rupee.

APPENDIX IV (see paragraph 14 of the Regulations).

Pension and Retirement Pay.

1. The following is a summary of the principal pension rules applicable to officers of the Indian Forest Service appointed by the Secretary of State from the United Kingdom.

An officer of the Indian Forest Service is eligible for a pension on voluntary retirement when completing 22 years' qualifying service or attaining the age of 55 years. If at no earlier date he is compelled to retire from the service through ill-health, not accounted for by injuries or insanitary habits, he becomes eligible for an invalid pension to a gratuity according to the length of his service.

The amount of pension or gratuity is regulated as follows—

After a service of less than 20 years, an invalid gratuity not exceeding six months' emoluments for each completed year of service.

After a service of not less than 20 years an invalid pension not exceeding the following amounts—

20 to 24	30	Do. 4,650 a year or the 25th month.
25 and above		Do. 5,000 " " or " 31st "

Officers who have shown special energy and efficiency during an effective service of those years as Inspector General of Forestry or Conservator (First Grade) may, at the discretion of the Government of India, be allowed an additional pension of Rs. 1,500 a year.

Subject to certain prescribed conditions, superannuation pay may be paid to pensioners residing in countries where the Indian rupee is not legal tender at the rate of exchange of 16 Rs. for rupee.

2. A Provident Fund has also been established on the following basis:—

- The contribution is compulsory up to 5 per cent. on salary, with voluntary contributions of a further 5 per cent. while on leave, an officer may substitute any sum he pleases, subject to a minimum of 5 per cent. on his leave allowances and a maximum of 10 per cent. on his salary.
- Compound interest on such payments is annually credited by Government to each officer's account, the rate being at present 5 per cent. per annum.
- Requisite and payments are made in respect only.
- The sum which will thus accumulate to the credit of an officer to be his absolute property, to be handed over to him unconditionally on quitting the service; or, in the event of his death before retirement, to his legal representatives.

No. 1785.—The colonial privilege leave and furlough for absence recently granted to Mr. William Hutton, the Sanitary Engineer in Government, has been extended by two months.

A 1991 study by the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) found that the average person in the United States spends about 10 percent of their time in a car. This is a significant amount of time, especially for those who commute long distances or live in areas with high traffic volume. 6. Any candidate suspected of having had access to any kind of book or to have his examination materials and also to have delivered from appearing again for any of the examinations under the control of the Commissioner for such term of years as the Commissioner may think fit, or, if the Commissioner is not satisfied for any reason whatever as to the trustworthiness of his results, he may be required to undergo a re-examination at some future date to be fixed by the Commissioner in any one or more of the subjects of the examination for which he appeared, and answers or papers being determined as the results of such re-examination.

The wind, sea, and general weather registered are for the current Civil Day—from midnight to midnight.
